On the number of negative eigenvalues of quantum graphs

A. Luger
joint work with J. Behrndt

This talk deals with isolated eigenvalues of quantum graphs. It will be discussed how their number can be counted explicitly by translating the eigenvalue problem into an analytic question for related m-functions.

We show how this approach works for the Laplace operator. Moreover, we give some examples where potentials are treated as well.